strongest in the city.

The fire alarm poles have at last arrived, and now the new system will not be long in getting into active operation.

As an outcome of the lively row between a lot of colored folks on Broadway, Jacob Washington and John Braker were yesterday fined, and the disposition of the other cases postponed until the matter could be further examined into.

Union Pacific engineers began yesterday a new survey for a route from the transfer to Main street, seeking to avoid coming up Tenth avenue. The result will be reported to the company, and the matter will come up before the council of the city next week.

Yesterday Mary Murphy, who has been a domestic in the family of J. M. Phillips for twelve years, was taken to Mount Pleasant for treatment. She has been lately showing signs of mental derange-ment, and it is hoped that by care at the institution she may recover.

At Atlantic the city scales pay the city about $25 a month. If the city weighmaster here was given the authority due him, and the council protected the office and the city's interest as it should, this city would get as much more from this source than Atlantic, as Council Bluffs is larger in population.

An old lady who lives near the Northwestern round house, is being cared for at the city jail temporarily, it appearing that she is deranged. Every day the want of a city hospital becomes more ap-parent. The city jail is not a fit place for many of the cases necessarily brought there, but there seems to be no other.

The old man Lower, who was confidenced out of $15 several days ago, and went to Ida Grove on a visit, has re-turned and went over to Omaha to identify a fellow named Adams, who is in jail there on a ten-day sentence, and who was suspected of being an accomplice. Lower says Adams is not one of the men

It seems to irritate the dear old grandmother because the BEE swears to its cir enlation and publishes its figures so that advertisers may know what they are getting. While the BEE swears to its cir-culation the Nonparell swears at its circulation. The old lady can hardly be blamed, for it is hard to create any demand for a scrapbook when there are so many real newspapers in the land.

The funeral of the late John Kost was held yesterday afternoon, and was largely attended. His brother Knights of Pythias attended in a body, and members of the old fire department of which he was a member paid due respect to his memory.
Many friends of the family joined in the services, which were conducted by Rev.
Mr. Mackay, whose remarks on the occasion were most touching and fitting.

Off For Canada. Considerable stir has been caused along tho line of the Wabash railway by the disappearance of H. B. McGregor, who has been the active partner in the firm of McGregor Bros. who have been handling grain and running elevators between Council Bluffs and Imogene. The affair has been kept rather quiet, there being some hope of finding the missing Mc-Gregor and forcing him to some settlement. It is now believed he has skipped out for Canada or some other safe re-treat, and that he will not soon be made to reappear in Iowa. The firm had sev-eral elevators and did a very large busi-ness. The first intimation that anything was wrong was about ten days ago, when a bill of sale was given of all the property to Billingsley & Nanson, of St. Louis, the consideration being $12,000. It is said that immediately after giving this bill of sale McGregor began shipping out grain and drawing on parties for the same, thus trying to realize more money from what he had already said to the from what he had already sold to the St. Louis house. The scheme was discovered, and about that time McGregor could not be found. A telegram was sent to this city for the police to arrest him here, he having been seen here and in Omaha the day before. He was not to be found, nor could he be traced, and the search seems to have been given up.

McGregor came to Imogene about a year ago from Fairfield, where he had been in the drug business. He was looked ipon as a reliable and wealthy man, and he has done a great deal of business, and apparently in a satisfactory manner until this break was made. It is understood that a large number of farmers are out small amounts, holding checks, or hav-ing endorsed and passed them to others, who now fall back on to them to make them good. The shortage in all is esti-mated as high as $15,000, but it is thought that McGregor did not take with him more than $5,000 in cash. The other brother of the firm is in the employ of the Wabash, being the dispatcher at Stans-bury. He claims ignorance of the entire matter, having given the business little or none of his personal attention, the missing McGregor having the entire

Hard Up For a Political Cry.

Because the burglars made a raid here the other night the republican organs begin to how! that it is the result of putting democrats on the police force. Just how far such nonesense will be carried without falling to pieces by its own foolishness, can hardly be estimated. There were some changes made in the police force which did not seem at all necessary or expedient, and were not in accordance with the wishes of the citizens generally, who felt that the old force was about as good a one as could be secured. Still it seems nonsensical to try to make po-litical capital out the fact that some houses have been entered by sneaks. The present force, like the ones preceding, have too large a territory to cover. Each man at night is expected to look after a whole ward. In the largest cities where the beats are shorter, and watchmen plenty, there are burglaries committed. The BEE believes in treating the new force fairly and squarely, and will be one of the first to score them for any known neglect of duty, but it is not ready to jump up and howl that burglaries are plenty because there are democratic po-licemen on the force. It leaves that sort of nonsense for the old grandmother and

Resolutions of Condolence. At a special meeting of Concordia Lodge, No. 52, K. of P., held at Castle Hall on Tuesday, November 9, 1886, to pay the last tribute of respet to the remains of Bro. Knight John Kost, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the universe to remove from our midst by the band of death and in a manner only known to the All Seeing Eye of large to the same of the same to get into my method. I made my living trapping. When I was going to school to the old Marion county seminary I kept up my trapping on Fall Creek and who was ever ready to aid the lodge as a faithful servant and efficient officer, who safely guarded the funds of the lodge, and being a worthy and upright citizen, his loss is sorely felt both by the lodge and our citizens at large;

Resolved, That we tender to his be-reaved family and relatives our heartfelt sympathy in this their hour of great trial, with the consolation that the last resting place of their dearly beloved husband, father, son and brother is where his grave can be decorated and loving tokens of remembrance placed thereon; and that the mystery of his death which may never be known is greatly alleviated by feeling sure that he reposes in a spot the loved ones can visit.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the daily papers of the city and the Frie Presse and that an engrossed copy of the same under the seal of the lodge be presented to the wife and family of the deceased.

J. B. Alten was elected assessor unani-1,401 mously for that portion of the township outside of the city. It is a singular fact that the official canvass shows only 556 votes for Justice Hendricks, who run as an independent candidate. The unofficial returns of the BEE the night of election gave him 674 votes, and one precinet, the first of the Fourth ward, not heard from. The vote in that precinct was not counted in full until 3 o'clock the next day, and the board of that precinct days not report a board of that precinct does not report a single vote east for Justice Hendricks. He must have had a large number of votes in that precinct, but n are returned from there for him. the First precinct of the First ward Jus-tice Hendricks received 126 votes, as shown from the tally sheets, but in making the returns the board of that precinct omitted his name entirely. If these 126 votes were added to the 556, as they would have been but for the carlessness of the elerks, Justice Hendricks' vote would have been 682, and the First drecinet of the Fourth ward to be heard from, This would swell the number to a hand-some showing for one running on an independent ticket, for a position which would not warrant the expenditure of much money, work or time to secure. It was a strong endorsement for him, and a stinging rebuke to those who schemed the democratic township convention in Frainey's interests. Had these blunders not been made in the two precincts named, the result would not probably have been affected, but in many cases

Ago. Indianapolis Journal: "I suppose," said George W. Pitts, "that I am about the last man that ever did any trapping that counted for anything in money here round about Indianapolis. I came to this town from Centreville, Wayne county, where Governor Morton came from, and was born there in the same year that he was. I commenced trapping about this town with my father in 1838 as about this town with my father in 1838 as a boy only fourteen years old, and made a business until, 1849 of hunting and trapping. I used to take my traps and float down White river, staying down until the streams froze up. I knew all the hollow sycamores along the river, and many a might have I slept in them with a big fire blazing out in front. I trapped muskrat, mink, 'coon, otter and fox. 'Coon skins paid best. I gave a cow and a calf to old Josh Hinesly in 1840 for a 'coon dog. He was a good 'un. Many a time in one night I got enough 'coons with him to pay for that cow and coons with him to pay for that cow and

THE DAILY BEE. THE COUNT OF THE COUNTY God, our well beloved Brother Knight John Kost; therefore be it Resolved, That in the untimely death of Brother Knight John Kost, Concordia Lodge, K of P., looses a worthy member over. During the winter, while going to School, I caught one night in Pogue's Run, near its mouth three ofter at one Run, near its mouth, three ofter at one slide and one about where the belt now crosses the run. Although in '45 I cleared as high as $60 a week trapping between this town and Waverly, down the river. The river was better than Fall Creek, because the bottoms were wider and the settlements couldn't get so near to the haunts of the animals. I think I caught the last otter trapped in Marion county. That was in 1849, up on Fall Creek, about a mile north of the fair grounds. I got $13 for the skin. There are a few otter down about Worthington yet, and I think I'll take my traps down there one I think I'll take my traps down there one of these days. In those days wild turkeys were plenty all around town, especially north of town, along in the Fall creek bottoms. I have shot gobblers weighing twenty-two pounds when cleaned. I used turkey to bait for coon and mink: parsmp is the best for muskrat. In 1847 I killed a deer, a big buck on the river twelve miles below town. Around Crown hill used to be, along about '40, a splendid place for turkeys about '40, a splendid place for turkeys about 40, a spiendid place for turkeys and squirrels: some deer there, too. Any man who could shoot at all could calculate on getting lifteen to twenty squirrels in an hour or so in the afternoon. I often used 'em to bait with. They were a great pest to the farmers. In '44 or '45 they came traveling through here from the north traveling through here from the north, scores and scores of 'em. I've seen them swimming the rivers in great droves, and stood on the bank with a club and killed them. They would come out right at one's feet exhausted and hardly try to get away. They were very lean and seem to have been starved out. They were the old-fashioned gray squirrel. For squirrels were rarely seen then, but about '45 they began to appear, and soon drove the gray squirrels out.

The French Army. France has already a larger army than Germany, and the Germans admit that the French have 75,000 more men in their active army than they have. The French have 576 more gans than the Germans but the German cavairy is superior to that of the French. The French army on a peace footing amounts to about 500,000 men, but on a war footing it can call to-gether over 2,000,000 of soldiers who have been fully trained, 100,000 more have been partially trained and over half a million who are untrained. Its army on a war footing would number over 4,000,000, or fully 20 per cent of the male population of France.
